What information do we collect about you?

During the use of our live website we may collect:

- your name, contact details and basic application information provided to us via an online enquiry or during the use of our live chat function; and
- information about your use of our website including, pages visited, how you reached the website and your IP address, through the use of cookies placed on your browser.

Further information on the use of cookies and our website can be found in our Website & Cookie Policy.

During the loan enquiry / application process, we may collect personal and financial information from you including (but not limited to):

- the content of communications received by letter, email, SMS or telephone;
- name, address history & contact information (telephone number(s) and email addresses);
- date of birth, marital status & nationality;

- property details and value (including 2nd homes and Buy-to-lets where relevant);
- household Income, employment type and history;
- details about your monthly expenditure, financial circumstances and requirements; and
- credit and mortgage information including credit reference agency data.

Special categories of data

We do not request 'special categories' of data (health / medical records, etc...) during the application process, however, if sensitive information is provided to us, we will ask for your explicit consent prior to recording it. As part of application process, we may invite you, on a voluntary basis, to disclose information that would enable us to assist you in the loan process to make informed borrowing decisions, and to ensure the lenders lending decision is informed and responsible.

How do we collect the information about you, and who provides it?

Your data may be provided to us by:

- You or any other applicants through our online application, phone calls, emails and / or in the form of physical documents;
- Introducing partners, whose websites you may have visited in order to make an enquiry;
- Your introducing financial adviser or mortgage broker, acting on your behalf; or
- The lender(s) who we have approached in connection with arranging your loan.

Alternatively, we may request your personal data from relevant third parties, for example; property surveyors, existing mortgage providers, your financial adviser/mortgage broker and Credit Reference Agencies (CRA).

Why do we collect your information and how will we use it?

1. In order to provide our service – (in legal speak, as a necessity to perform our contract with you), we will process your personal data to:

- Assess eligibility and suitability of loan products offered by lenders on our panel or referral partners we may introduce you to where we are unable to help;
- Process your application and arrange its completion;
- Carry out credit reference agency searches;
- Submit application information to prospective lenders who will conduct their own credit reference agency search in order to assess eligibility for their products ;
- Keep your Introducer (if any) informed about the progress of your loan application.

Such processing is a requirement of the service we provide in sourcing and arranging the finance you have requested. If you do not agree to how we will use your information we will not be able to provide our service.

2. In order to comply with the laws and regulations that apply to TLE, for example:

- to inform fraud prevention and/or law enforcement agencies where fraud or money laundering is identified or suspected; or
- to obtain or retain appropriate records, for example evidence of:
 - suspected fraud or money laundering;
 - mortgage advice;
 - proof of your identity (electronic or physical);
 - complaints investigations and outcomes.

3. In the course of running our business – (in legal speak, where we have a legitimate interest to do so i.e. processing that isn't strictly necessary for providing our service but is important for us as a business), including:

- to improve our products and services;

- to record and respond to complaints;
- to generate statistical analysis and research;
- to facilitate your use of our websites, including enquiring about services via our websites; and
- where applicable, to contact and inform you of the end of your loans initial rate period.

4. Where you have given your consent - we will ask for your consent:

- to allow us to keep you informed about service and products and updates to them;
- to collect and process sensitive personal data relevant to your application;
- to transfer your data to trusted partners who we may refer you to if we cannot help.

5. Where there is a vital interest to do so – in other words we may pass your information onto relevant agencies such as the Police where we believe there is a risk to life.

Credit searches

When you enquire, we carry out our own credit search and credit searches on behalf of prospective lenders via their own systems. This allows us to obtain eligibility decisions and accurate rate information to generate your loan quote.

All searches at this stage are 'soft' searches and do not affect your credit rating. These searches are recorded as "SQ" Search Quotation that you will be able to see on your credit report. Other credit providers will not be able to consider these searches when deciding whether to offer you credit in the future. The CRA will record details of the search whether or not your application proceeds.

If you proceed with your application, we will conduct a secondary search of the CRA. This allows us to verify your identity electronically. This search will appear as 'ID' on your credit report and also does not affect your credit rating.

Once your application has been approved in principle, signed paperwork received and the application has been formally submitted to the lender, an 'Application Search' or 'hard' search will be conducted by the lender. This application search can affect your credit rating as it may be taken into account by other credit providers. In certain circumstances, for example if you decide to proceed with a different lender during the application process, it may be necessary to complete more than one application search.

Where you have made an enquiry in joint names with a spouse or financial associate and we have carried out a credit search, a financial association will be created between the applicants if one does not already exist.

CRA data will be used by us to verify your identity, assess product suitability and your eligibility for loans we offer. Lenders may also use the information in assessing your application, to manage your account and recover debts.

The information, shared between us and the CRAs, about you and those with whom you are linked financially, may be used to trace and recover debts, and prevention of criminal activity.

Further information on how CRAs use, store and retain personal data and how to contact them, can be found at <https://www.equifax.co.uk/crain.html>.

Who might we share your information with?

Prospective Lenders

We will share some or all of the information obtained during the application process with prospective lenders in order to assess your eligibility and process your application to completion. This may include information that has not specifically been requested by the lender but will be provided because it may impact the lender's decision to lend. A list of prospective lenders can be found in our 'Terms of Business' or on our website. Page 3 of 7

Third Parties to obtain information relevant to your loan application

We may need to contact your mortgage provider, property surveyors, accountant, and/or any other relevant third party, in order to gather information that we need to support your application as required by a lenders' criteria. The information that is provided to each lender is limited to only what is required to grant the information request.

Credit reference agencies (CRAs)

We will provide your personal data to credit reference agencies to obtain credit and electoral roll information required to verify your identity and assess your eligibility for loan products available through the lenders on our panel. We only provide CRAs with your name, address (including previous addresses) and date of birth in order for them to supply us with your credit file.

Fraud prevention agencies

If you give us false or inaccurate information, if we suspect or identify fraud, we will record this and may pass this information to fraud prevention agencies and other organisations involved in crime and fraud prevention.

Whenever fraud prevention agencies transfer your personal data outside of the European Economic Area, they impose contractual obligations on the recipients of that data to protect your personal data to the standard required in the European Economic Area. They may also require the recipient to subscribe to 'international frameworks' intended to enable secure data sharing.

Introducers and financial advisors

We will keep your introducer (if applicable) informed of the progress of your application. We will also share information requests and documentation relating to the application with any financial advisor or mortgage broker that is acting on your behalf.

Trusted referral partners

If we are unable to help find you an appropriate product from our panel or you have requested to be connected with one of our referral partners through our website, we may transfer your data to one of our trusted referral partners. If this transfer happens during the course of an application made through us we will discuss your options and confirm that you are happy for your information to be transferred before doing so.

Third party service providers

To help us fulfil contracts and to pursue our legitimate interests, we may share your personal information with third parties who process data on our behalf in order to provide services such as:

- Independent review platforms

We may ask you to provide feedback upon successful completion of your loan application using a third party online provider. We only provide them with your name and email address in order to provide you with a link to the feedback service.

- Digital marketing platforms

We use an automated marketing platform to manage and send promotional email communications (where you have consented to this). Some of our suppliers of these services transfer personal data (names and email addresses) outside the EEA. Where such a transfer is not to a country regarded as having adequate data protection laws, the transfer is subject to appropriate safeguards, in the form of contractual obligations, in respect of the personal data concerned.

- Website live chat

We use a UK based third party platform to deliver our Live Chat service to handle customer enquiries through our website in real time. The platform also provides temporary storage of your data which may include your name, email address, phone number and the content of any conversation via live chat. Further information regarding how they process and store data can be viewed on their website.

- SMS communications

We use a third party platform to facilitate the sending and receiving of SMS (text) messages and the temporary storage of those messages which will include your telephone number and the content of any SMS message.

- I.T. system support and communications

Our IT, telephony, web and email infrastructure, is provided by our sister company. They provide IT data hosting and backup along with helpdesk support which involves the processing and storing of your data. A number of the services are provided by other companies (sub processors), including:

- Email security and archiving (sub processor)

We use a third party to provide an email archive facility and secure email gateway to manage the threat of cyberattacks. Email addresses and the contents of emails are stored securely on a restricted access basis.

- Phone call recording (sub Processor)

We use a third party call recording software to record telephone calls made to or by us, which are processed and stored on our own servers. We may permit authorised access for the service provider, strictly to resolve technical problems with regard to the call recording software.

All our third party processors and their sub-processor's comply with the relevant data protections legislation and have the technical measures in place to keep your data safe. Unless otherwise stated, our third party service providers do not process or transfer your data outside of the UK and only process your data as directed by us and in line with the terms of this notice.
